A report shall be submitted to the RMO (or their deputy, as the case may be), either verbally or in writing, or via an electronic platform ("Internal Report").

Specifically, an Internal Report shall be submitted:

a) via a special online platform, accessible from a prominent place on the Company's website, with clear instructions on how to use the platform and submit reports. The electronic platform is available in Greek and English.

b) by sending a postal letter to the RMO of the parent company AVAX S.A. (or their deputy, as applicable) at the following address: 16, Amarousiou - Chalandriou Avenue, 15125 Maroussi, Attica, with the indication "personal and confidential", or

(c) via a voice messaging system with a recorded conversation, provided the reporting party has legally consented to the recording; or

(d) verbally, in a face-to-face meeting with the RMO (or their deputy, if applicable), which shall take place within a reasonable time of the Reporting parties request, in accordance herewith.

- The Internal Report may be submitted by name or anonymously.

- The submission of the Internal Report does not require adherence to a certain strict form or content, as long as it is clearly, sincerely and in good faith submitted. To facilitate the Reporting Parties, a relevant Internal Report template has been posted on the online platform.

During the examination of the Report, additional information may be requested.

- Each report is recorded in a special file kept by the RMO, either in paper or digital form.

- Upon receiving the report, the RMO shall take one of the following actions:
